The Tribal Capacity Building Program is one of two grants currently being offered exclusively to tribal entities as a part of SGC's newest Tribal Housing and Capacity Building Initiative. tribal entities may also apply to the Tribal Housing Pre-Development Fund, a grant opportunity that funds activities related to affordable housing development, including planning, infrastructure, construction, site preparation, and other pre-development activities. The goal of the fund is to increase preparedness to build housing and access other state-funded, affordable housing programs.

PROGRAM SUMMARY

The Tribal Capacity Building Program is a grant program that provides funding and technical assistance (TA) to California Native American Tribes, enhancing staff capacity to advance tribes' climate- and housing-related work. Administered by SGC, the goal of the program is to help tribes develop long-term capacity to secure funding and implement tribal-led climate- and housing-related projects.

The program funds staff salaries and activities that advance tribes' climate- and housing-related work. Activities may include planning, securing funding for, and implementing housing projects and related efforts to advance climate mitigation, adaptation, and resilience. Tribes will work with a technical assistance provider and receive no-cost, flexible support that will respond to each tribe's needs. The capacity building and technical assistance services offered include, but are not limited to: trainings and workshops; grant application and management support; planning support; implementation assistance; staff and economic development; partnership building; peer learning.

The SGC intends to fund Tribal Capacity Building Program awards in a manner that reflects statewide geographic and tribal diversity, inclusive of rural and urban tribes, federally recognized and non-federally recognized tribes, and a range of climate impacts. Applicants are encouraged to indicate how their application would further this goal.

Eligible Applicants

- California Native American Tribes: Tribes listed on the Native American Heritage Commission (NAHC) Contact List per Chapter 905 of the Statutes of 2004 (Pub. Resources Code, § 21073) as of February 2026, including federally recognized and non-federally recognized tribes. Non-federally recognized tribes must be registered with the California Secretary of State as a nonprofit, a for-profit corporation, or a limited liability company.
- Tribally Designated Housing Entities (TDHE) (25 U.S.C. § 4103) listed in the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's National Directory of Tribes and TDHEs.

The SGC will not require a waiver of sovereign immunity from tribes who are receiving funds on a reimbursement basis. However, requests for advance pay will necessitate federally recognized Tribal awardees to sign a limited waiver of sovereign immunity.

Current Tribal Capacity Building Program Round 1 grantees are eligible to apply for Round 2 and must indicate in their application how their proposed customized activities will differ from Round 1 customized activities. Deliverables should be distinct, and efforts should be made not to duplicate work or amend the second award to functionally extend the first.

Program Objectives

Proposed activities and narrative responses should provide additional details about the tribe's approach to achieve desired outcomes. The Tribal Capacity Building Program's key objectives are to:

- Build Tribal Staff Capacity to Advance and Sustain Housing and Climate Action: By investing in staff capacity and providing trainings and technical assistance to enhance Tribal coordination, knowledge, skills, expertise, and access to state resources, the program aims to help tribes build and sustain their climate- and housing-related efforts.
- Secure Funding to Develop and Implement Tribal-led Housing and Climate Projects: Grantees will work with the TA provider on activities to secure funding for the development and implementation of existing or new housing and climate mitigation, adaptation, or resilience projects.
- Enhance Peer Learning Relationships Among Tribes: Peer learning activities will provide a space for tribes to share promising practices and lessons learned and support tribal coordination on the development and implementation of climate- and housing-related projects and applications where relevant.
